WESTERN TO HOST CONSIDERING COLLEGE SEMINAR

St. Joseph, Mo. — May 4, 2004— Missouri Western State College will host Considering College, a free daylong seminar for adults who are thinking of enrolling in college for the first time or returning after an absence. The program will be May 19 from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. in the Fred Eder Student Services Classroom Building, room 202.

Those attending will receive Western registration and admission information as well as information on career planning and options. Participants will also have a chance to discuss student experiences with a panel conducted by nontraditional students who have returned to school. Offices on campus such as Student Services, Financial Aid, Student Health Services, Center for Academic Support and Learning Resources will hold brief presentations explaining their role on campus. There will also be an opportunity for a campus tour.

Considering College is sponsored by the Nontraditional Student Center. Pre-registration is encouraged by calling (816) 271-4280.
