WESTERN ANNOUNCES STUDENT ACHIEVEMENTS

St. Joseph, Mo. —Nov. 6, 2006— Missouri Western State University announces recent achievements of its student's hometowns and programs:

- Business major Brad Meyer and Dr. Shiva Nandan, professor of marketing, attended the International Business and Economics Research Conference in Las Vegas and presented a paper entitled "An Essay on Postmodernism: Manifestations in Contemporary Business and Marketing."
- Fifteen cadets and cadre members of Western's ROTC program participated in a four-day staff ride to the Battle of Little Big Horn in Montana. Under the direction of LTC Rob Gardner, professor of military science, the group's primary focus was to bring to life the Battle of Little Big Horn. They provided examples of leadership and examined the various factors of battle such as tactics, terrain, communications, leadership and psychological factors of the battle.
- The dual credit general chemistry I program continues to expand and is now being conducted in 20 regional high schools, the largest dual credit program at Western. The program is managed by new faculty member Dr. James Puckett. This year, 116 students throughout northwest Missouri and northeast Kansas are enrolled. This program is a collaborative effort between the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences and the Western Institute.
