WESTERN THEATRE FATERNITY PRESENTS “SYLVIA”

St. Joseph, Mo. —April 12, 2005 — A dog is a man’s best friend. At least that is the case in A.R. Gurney’s play “Sylvia” presented by Missouri Western State College’s honorary theatre fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega. The performances will take place 8 p.m. April 21-23 and 2 p.m. April 24 in the Thompson E. Potter Hall black box theater. Admission is $8 for adults and $4 for students, employees and senior citizens. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Student Brent Corey, a history major from St. Joseph, is the director.

“Sylvia” is a farcical comedy about a man going through a midlife crisis who brings home a dog that personifies his wife’s fear of him wanting a younger woman. The play contains adult themes and language and is not recommended for younger audiences.

“I chose the play because it made me laugh out loud,” said Corey. “It’s a very funny play full of hilarious characters.”

The cast includes Aaron Westlake of St. Joseph; Candice Schrader of St. Charles, Mo.; Aisha Tanner of Kansas City, Mo.; Tyler Ingrim of St. Joseph; Tara Stull of St. Joseph, and Terence Berger of Kansas City, Mo.
