

The Department of English, Foreign Languages, and Journalism

Presents:

"Cien años de literatura: narrativa mexicana después de la revolución" (One Hundred Years of Literature: Mexican Narrative after the Revolution)

A talk by Dr. Grazyna Walczak (Fisk University)

Thursday, November 5th

10:30 hs

Spratt 110

(Talk will be in Spanish; Final questions and conversation in English)

Dr. Grazyna Walczak
B.A. in German (UNAM - National Autonomous University of Mexico)
M.A. in Spanish (University of South Florida)
Ph.D. in Spanish (University of Florida)
Research Areas: Women writers and memory in the formation of a different feminine subject in traditional Mexican literature. Sociolinguistics: Linguistic and extra-linguistic manifestations of courtesy and discourtesy.

